

Non-Executive Director Role Description

Justice Studio (www.justicestudio.org) is a values driven social enterprise entering an exciting new phase of development in our mission to reduce social inequality. We are looking for an enthusiastic and highly skilled colleague to join our board.

Justice Studio's purpose is to create global social equality by assisting and challenging organisations, governments and ourselves to be the best we can be.

Role title: Non-Executive Director
Remuneration: £500 per day for 4-7 days per year
Location: North Road, London, N7.
Anticipated Start Date: As soon as possible.

Roles and Responsibilities

- Fiduciary & governance level oversight of Justice Studio via regular board meetings and reports
- Strategic input on organisational and business development
- Tactical support to the Managing Director
- Contributing to the development and growth of Justice Studio
- Occasional support and advice to team members on specific projects or tasks
- Statutory directorial duties

Skill set and personal qualities

- Understanding of social justice and / or international development
- Good knowledge of a sector such as justice, education, safeguarding, children's rights or health
- Senior level experience of organisational and business development
- Understanding of regulatory processes both in terms of Justice Studio's work and the company itself
- Existing professional networks and relationships with IGOs, government agencies, regulators and potential partner organisations a plus
- Strong personal ethical framework
- Adherence to Justice Studio's ethics and principles